Research Aids for Local & Family
Historians

including

Antiquarian, Rare & Specialist Books on CD-

Original Indexes was established on the 1st of July 1996 to meet the growing demand among local and family historians for indexes to primary sources in a cheap and convenient format – Microfiche, Booklet and CD-Rom.

On 1st November 2006, Northumberland and Durham Family History Society acquired the stock of Original Indexes following the sudden death of one of the business partners, and re-titled the stock.

We now have the largest catalogue of its kind in the North of England.

Standard histories also feature on our price list. Originally on microfiche, these are now available on CD-ROM at a fraction of their antiquarian value, so we can all afford them!

Though based in the North-East of England, our price list reflects a range of interests, regional, national and international. In addition to indexes, and Rare Books we also offer for sale photographs from our vast collection of Anglican and other churches in the North of England and the Scottish Borders.

Marginal Notes

Well here it is the all new Ancestral Indexes catalogue, gone are the Deanery sections, everything is now in alphabetical order by county, whether it is Microfiche, Booklet or CD-Rom, so lookout for the codes when ordering.

The catalogue will now be produced only once a year with updates of new titles at various times throughout the year, so make sure you are on our mailing list in order to receive these.

See the new order form for details of how to create your own CD-Rom of our Parish Register Indexes, you say what you would like, we will make to your very own special order!

Also see the new special offer on the Books on CD-Rom and the new revised prices for the Trade Directories.

Parish Registers on Microfiche, CD-Rom and Booklet Format

Cambo

The church of the Holy Trinity, erected in 1842, is a building of stone in the Lancet style, consisting of nave, with pentagonal eastern apse, and a western tower containing a clock and 6 bells: the tower was built at the cost of Sir Geo. Otto Trevelyan bart. M.P. at the time the church was restored in 1886: several grave slabs, with incised crosses, one with an effigy, and others carved with swords or spears, have been removed from the site of the ancient chapel, and are preserved here: there are 280 sittings. The register dates from the year 1842. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £225, in the gift of the Right Hon. Sir George Otto Trevelyan bart. P.C., M.P., and held since 1888 by the Rev. Charles Augustus Fitch M.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge. [Kelly's Northumberland Directory (1890), page 741.]

Trade Directories on Microfiche & CD-Rom

First Published in the late 18th century, Trade Directories were the Yellow Pages of their day. The titles we stock vary enormously in size and content.

Earlier volumes are generally slim listings of notable members of the clergy, the nobility and tradesmen in a given town or city. Some offer potted histories of the areas they cover; most include a number of period advertisements which are fascinating just to browse through.

County-wide directories first appear in the late 1820s. More ambitious in scope, the best include detailed histories of the counties they cover, and some have become standard works of reference for local and family historians.
